GREAT LOCAL RESOURCES FOR YOUR BUSINESS!

The Lyndon Area Business Association is a great resource to share your business information. We continue to offer time for networking during our meetings which are held on the 2nd Wednesday of each month. Networking is definitely the key focus at our Business Connections which are held on the last Thursday of each month. Please mark your calendar to attend our events and share your business information with other partners in the community.

As a LABA Member your business information is included in our membership directory on our website at www.cityoflyndon.org. Please visit the site and ensure your information is listed correctly. Contact the LABA Office at lyndonbusiness@bellsouth.net to make updates as needed.

The Economic Development Department with Louisville Metro is also a great resource. They foster a robust business climate by promoting job creation, meeting workforce needs, creating amenities within our region, and balancing growth by enhancing the environment. They work at all of these initiatives in order to improve the quality of life in Louisville Metro.

Other services include loan programs, assistance in site selection, client support through the regulatory processes, conduct planning studies, and referrals to state and local incentive opportunities. LABA is fortunate to have a very proactive representative, John Coots who is available at 502-574-1375 or john.coots@louisvilleky.gov if you have specific needs you wish to discuss.

Our friends Steve & Kelly Kuerzi at Big Talk on Small Business Radio on 1080AM are also available to provide you with business tips, advice, promotions and networking events. They are planning a Business Expo on March 19th from 9am-2pm at Louisville Marriott East. Booth reservations are currently being accepted. Contact Mary Killian at mary@bigtalkonsmallbusiness.com to learn more about this valuable resource.
