

LABA MEMBERS TAKE CARE OF OUR 4-LEGGED FRIENDS...& MORE!

We are so fortunate to have wonderful care-givers in our community in a variety of specialty areas. We have several who take care of those close to our hearts while doing something they truly love in the process.

Dr. Jewell is a Louisville native who provides high quality, comprehensive medical care for dogs, cats & the unique needs of exotic pets. She has specialized training in exotic animal care through an internship at Busch Gardens in Florida & the Louisville Zoo. Dr. Jewell & her husband share their home with 3 dogs, 3 cats, 1 rabbit, 4 birds & an iguana.

Most people know to come & adopt a dog or cat from Kentucky Humane Society. However, they also have other programs & services including behavior training classes, doggie daycare, children's summer camps & birthday parties. Britney Chaney, Director of Administration shares, "mention you are a LABA member & get one day free to try out our doggie daycare".

Teddy is Britney's dog who was a big help to the staff when getting their building ready to open!

Lyndon Animal Clinic is a family owned & operated veterinary clinic that's been providing loving care to Louisville's animals for over 50 years. They treat animals of all shapes & sizes. If you're new to the area, a first-time pet owner, or simply looking for the right veterinarian, Dr. Kurt D. Oliver & Dr. Kortney Roppel, "invite you to stop in one day to meet us in person & see for yourself how we do things around here".

"This facility is built for the animals. Everything from the rubber floors, sound proof cattery & the walk-in shower for big dogs is here based on what we would want for our pets", said owners Katie Peckenpaugh & Kathy Schultz. It is a unique facility that provides short & long-term boarding for dogs, cats & exotics. They also offer grooming & a variety of classes in their 2500 square foot indoor training room & 2 large outside fenced grass areas.
