Lyndon Mayor Susan Barto—Kentucky League of Cities 1st Vice President

The Kentucky League of Cities (KLC) is an association of 382 Kentucky cities. KLC provides cities, leaders and employees with a number of services including legislative advocacy, legal services, policy development and research and training, as well as enterprise services such as financing for cities. In addition, KLC Insurance Services is the largest municipal insurance carrier in Kentucky.

KLC is overseen by a board of directors representing communities of all sizes and is recognized as one of the nation's most innovative and successful leagues of its kind. During a recent KLC Conference, Lyndon Mayor and LABA Board Member Susan Barto was sworn in as the First Vice President. Next year she will become the KLC President.

“I have very much enjoyed working with and getting to know Mayor Barto. Her ability to cut to the heart of an issue and her common sense approach keeps our KLC work on task and focused. She has a strong understanding of cities and the business of cities as evidenced by her work with our insurance programs as well as with our executive board”, said KLC Executive Director Jon Steiner.

The current President of KLC is Paducah Mayor Bill Paxton who shares in the enthusiasm of working with Mayor Barto. “It has been a pleasure to work with Susan Barto in her capacity as 1st Vice President of KLC. Over the last several years, we have brought many changes to the League including a new Executive Director. Susan has been a wonderful partner in making the tough decisions that had to be made in order to bring KLC back to its full potential, and I look forward to working with her throughout this next year.”

Congratulations Mayor Barto!
